Georgia Heritage Room Highlights

The Georgia Heritage Room

SONGS OF THE SIXTIES

You don't want to miss an unusual and free presentation at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 15, in the first floor auditorium of the Augusta-Richmond County Public Library, when longtime weekly music columnist, national book author and magazine writer Don "Ramblin'" Rhodes presents his informative program on 1960s civil rights freedom folk songs including Bob Dylan's Blowin' In The Wind, Peter, Paul & Mary's If I Had A Hammer, Sam Cooke's A Change Is Gonna Come, John Legend's Woke Up This Morning and others. Videos of some performers will be intertwined with live renditions by Barbara Walker and Darlene Champagne singing and playing their guitars. This has been only presented once before at the Nancy Carson library in North Augusta and drew a large crowd who sang along on the grand finale number. Rhodes has been writing about music for 55 years and has three times won the Greater Augusta Arts Council's Media Person of the Year Award as well as the Louis C. Harris Media Award from the West Augusta Rotary Club. He also has been a nominee to the Georgia Music Hall of Fame in the non performing category.

KIDS STAMP DAY

Members of Augusta's Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Boys and Girls Clubs will gather in the Georgia Room of the Augusta-Richmond County Public Library at 3:00 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 13, to participate in the Kids Stamp Day. Each kid will receive fifty different foreign and United States stamps and other items of philatelic interest. Free drawings will be held for several stamp albums, first day covers, commemorative covers, and a package of twenty-five plate number blocks of four. Most of the stamps are from the collections of the late Mrs. Charlie Mae Graham and Neill Graham, her son. Augustan Bill Baab, member of the Greater Augusta Stamp Club acquired the collection and decided he wanted to support the hobby in which he'd been involved since 1947 and came up with the Kids Stamp Day idea. He received even more stamps from other sources and all will be given to the kids.

Please call the Georgia Heritage Room at 706-826-1511 for further details about upcoming programs and exhibits, or visit our blog at <http://genealogy.arcpls.org/>
