Beyond Basics: Taking Your Family History Research to the Next Step

If you have encountered brick walls and dead ends in your family history research then it may be time to learn some new tips and tricks. Join the Georgia Room's Tina Rae Floyd as she demonstrates ways to mine your current documents for clues to new records. She will also demonstrate what resources the library has to help you expand your search capabilities. Call (706) 826-1511 to register!

One-on-One Genealogy Help for Beginners

From April through June 2019, the staff of the Georgia Room will offer one-on-one sessions for library patrons interested in family history research. If you have just started researching your ancestors but need assistance we will sit down and work with you to develop a plan for moving forward. Sessions will last no more than one hour, and are designed to help individuals at the beginning stages of their genealogy quest. Each hour-long session is by appointment only, so please call (706)826-1511 to reserve your slot.

Take Me Out to the Ballpark: Baseball Talk and Exhibit in the Georgia Room

The Georgia Room is ringing in spring by celebrating America's favorite pastime, and anyone who is familiar with the history of baseball in the CSRA knows it is very likely Augusta's favorite pastime too. Dating back to the late 1800s, Augusta has been home to some of the most iconic names in the sport, including Augusta's own, Ty Cobb, as well as George Stallings, Bill Johnson, Harry Smythe, and Lou Brissie. Learn about these ballplayers and the tradition of baseball in the CSRA as local historians Lamar Garrard and Milledge Murray host a discussion on May 23rd at 6:00 pm in the Georgia Heritage Room on the third floor of the Augusta Public Library.

In conjunction with the talk, the Georgia Room will host an exhibit from April through May featuring local baseball memorabilia from the collections of Lamar Garrard and Milledge Murray.
