The Georgia Heritage Room Presents

a virtual book talk with

Libby Copeland

Thursday, October 29th at 2:00-3:30 pm

This live event will be viewable on the Augusta Public Library's YouTube, Facebook, and Twitter sites. Attendees will be able to ask questions and participate in the discussion.

The Lost Family explores the culture of genealogy, the science of DNA, and the business of DNA testing, all while tracing the journey of one woman and her unusual genetic detective story.

Libby Copeland is an award-winning journalist. A staff reporter and editor for The Washington Post for over a decade, she now writes for The Atlantic, Slate, The New York Times, Esquire, The Wall Street Journal and more.

The Lost Family is receiving rave reviews: The Washington Post calls it “an entertaining and impressively comprehensive field guide to the rapidly evolving world of genetic testing.” The Wall Street Journal says it’s “a fascinating account of lives dramatically affected by genetic sleuthing.” The New York Times writes, “Before You Spit in That Vial, Read This Book.”

Please call the Georgia Heritage Room at 706-826-1511 if you have questions.
